

Eclo

Clobetasol Propionate USP 0.05% w/w
(Only for external use)

Presentation :

Eclo Cream : Each 100 mg cream contains 0.05 mg of Clobetasol Propionate USP.

Eclo Ointment : Each 100 mg ointment contains 0.05 mg of Clobetasol Propionate USP.

Indication and uses :

Moderate to severe corticosteroid-responsive dermatoses. Treatment of more resistant dermatoses eg. stubborn eczemas, psoriasis, recalcitrant eczemas, lichen planus, discoid lupus, erythematous and other conditions which do not respond satisfactorily to less active steroids.

Dosage and Administration :

Apply sparingly 1-2 times daily for up to 4 weeks, reducing frequency as condition responds.

Contra-indication :

Untreated bacterial, fungal, or viral skin lesions.

Uses in Pregnancy and Lactation :

Eclo is safe to use in pregnancy and lactation.

Side-effects :

Side effects from clobetasol use are rare; but local side effects from the use of clobetasol include : Atrophic changes, such as striae, thinning of the skin; dilatation of the superficial blood vessels; spread and worsening of untreated infection; acne at the site of application in some patients.

Warning and Precautions :

Children, especially babies, are particularly susceptible to side-effects of clobetasol. So avoid prolong clobetasol use in infants and children and on the face.

Commercial pack :

Eclo Cream : 10 gm cream in aluminium collapsible tube.

Eclo Ointment : 10 gm ointment in aluminium collapsible tube.

GENERAL *Pharmaceuticals Ltd.
Gazipur, Bangladesh.